BIG AUDIENCE IS ENTERTAINED BY H. S. OPERETTA

Glee Clubs and Orchestra Combine to Present "A Nautical Knot"

Catchy lines and pretty tunes made "The Nautical Knot," the light opera presented by the high school glee clubs and orchestra, an entertaining amateur production. The performers were greeted with an audience that filled up almost every seat in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

The leading characters were taken by Charlotte Schuolke, Florence Downer, Robert Mitchell, Eugene Cole and Alan Harwood. The duet numbers between Miss Downer and Eugene Cole were some of the loveliest during the evening. Alan Harwood, who took the part of a veteran sailor who desired to remain single did exceptionally well.

Other parts were taken by Claire Miller, Harold Eads, William Meyer, Marie McCloskey, Miriam Penbody, Phyllis Ornstein, Annette Post, Albert Schulthies and Dona Hermann.

Miss Marie McCloskey and a Spanish ballet danced in a way that won hearty applause from the audience. The members of her ballet were Ruth Gaber, Louis Thompson, Eleanor Voecks, Elizabeth Thompson, Alvera Van Ooyen, Gertrude Shilling, Sylvia Gilsdorf, Jane Goslin, Noreta Roemer, Romona Sharp, Helen Menning, Rosetta Selig, Gertrude Weber, Lella Boettcher, Ora Zuehlke.

A group of sailors danced the hornpipes, led by Little Miss Mary Voecks daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Voecks. North and Meade's Miss Voecks later danced a Dutch clog. The little girl received the heartiest applause accorded any single performer.

Miss Ora Zuehlke performed a toe dance that was very pretty.

Members of the orchestra were Carl Schiebeler, Wilmar Schaefer, Harriet Melhinch, Lela Kloehn, Harold Franck, Edward Herzfeldt, Carl Jebo, Wilmar Franck, Ronald Westphal, Ed Steenis, Everett Roudeshush, Kathryn Russell, Elizabeth Meating, Romona Huessemann, Alfred Wickesburg, Franck, Donald Westphal, Ed Steenis, Everett Roudeshush, Kathryn Russell, Elizabeth Meating, Romona Huessemann, Alfred Wickesburg.

Men of Stock Raising and Farm Experience Make Best Moorman Representatives

Men of This Kind Build Good, Profitable, Ever-Increasing Business For Themselves. Five Hundred Men Are Now Employed. A Few Positions Are Open For Good Men in This County

Farmers like to have honest, intelligent men who know farm problems to sell them their mineral feeds. It is just this kind of men who are making the biggest success in handling the high quality Moorman products.

Scores of the best farmers in the country who have quit farming have found very satisfactory and profitable work in handling Moorman products. So-called high pressure, white collar salesmen are not wanted. The positions we now have open offer a splendid position for men who have either quit farming or would like to quit the farm.

A Factory and Experiment Station Visit for All Men

Every Moorman representative visits the factory and experimental farm for a full week. Here he is shown through our factory, covering over 140,000 square feet of floor space, and he is shown every detail of the methods used in manufacturing mineral feeds. At our own mineral mixture experiment farm, which is the largest, best equipped in the United States, he is shown complete detailed feeding tests that are conducted for the purpose of discovering ways and means of making our products of highest possible quality. Much other feeding information is also disseminated.

In addition to this, a competent veterinary dissects hogs before the class to inform each man how to diagnose diseases and how to handle many of the minor difficulties with hogs. In every detail Moorman men are thoroughly instructed for rendering valuable service to our customers for getting red results that count with our products.

Over thirty nine years ago T. R. Moorman founded the Moorman institution on a 275 acre stock farm. Ever since that time good, honest, hard working men of farm experience have done their best work for us.

A Good Opportunity for a Good Man

In taking a position with this company you would be associating yourself with men of high business ideals. The position we offer affords a splendid opportunity for you to build a good, lasting and ever increasing business.

While this position offers a splendid opportunity, yet you must PROVE conclusively that you are honest, industrious, intelligent and of good standing. Also you must be able to give the work your FULL TIME AND UNDIVIDED ATTENTION. Married men between the ages of twenty-five and fifty do best for us.

If interested, Write At Once

If you are interested you should by all means write us immediately as all available territories are now rapidly being taken. Write your name below, clip it out and mail at once either to our field sales manager, H. R. Brewster, 501 Granite-St., Waupaca, Wisconsin or Moorman Mfg. THE WORLD COURT
All the fuss and furor raised by the politicians and the die-hards in opposition to the World court is likely to soon melt away, and the highly advisable step of American participation in this important tribunal authorized. The death of Senator Lodge has removed the most formidable obstacle, and while it may be that the present session of congress will not vote for American adherence, it is morally certain that if it does not, the next session, or the incoming congress, will do so. Public opinion is overwhelmingly for American acceptance of this international responsibility. There is not the least shadow of doubt about this. The American Federation of Labor has indorsed it, the League of Women Voters and the American Legion have done the same. The churches of the United States are a unit for the World court, so that it may fairly be said that the intelligent opinion and moral sense of the nation are unanimously in favor of this forward step. Politics cannot long confound the public will so plainly and emphatically expressed. A proposal against which there is not one single sound objection, and which so conclusively appeals to our sentiments of justice, peace and progress, cannot be long obstructed. The irreconcilables have played fast and loose with the World court for selfish political reasons. They are thoroughly discredited. The country demands American participation in the World court without further evasion or bickering. The president is for it, and it is the duty of the senate to respond. After we have once accepted our obligations in support of this tribunal we will wonder how we permitted party strife to keep us out of it for a number of years, to our embarrassment at home and reproachment abroad.

"NAME THE WOOD"
The National Dry Goods association, whose membership includes many department stores and all or most of the large ones has adopted the rule which the Furniture Manufacturers' association of Grand Rapids had previously adopted to "name the wood" of which furniture is manufactured. The action is another phase of the development of the campaign of the Advertising Clubs of the World for "truth in advertising".
When the surface of furniture is of but one kind of wood, that wood is to be designated. When the surface is of more than one kind then the principal wood exposed is to be named. While it is not as extensive as it should be, and in time will be, the rule marks a tendency toward better practical ethics in business.
Every merchant, it must be conceded, is entitled to know exactly what he is buying from a manufacturer or wholesaler. As he is to resell the goods which he buys and displays, it is important that he should be in a position to sell his wares honestly.
The customer on his part is entitled to know exactly what the goods are. It is impossible for him to investigate everything he buys. He can easily judge of the veracity of the merchant, as the merchant must rely on the statement of the manufacturer or wholesaler.
Is a garment all silk, or is it imitation silk? Is it all wool or cotton, or a mixture? Is a piece of furniture all mahogany, or is it mahogany veneer, or birch-stained in imitation? Is it walnut or gum? The purchaser has a right to know exactly what it is.
Successful merchants follow a policy of full candor in their selling, as well as in their advertising. Salesmen are instructed to tell prospective buyers just what certain goods are and what the comparative advantages and disadvantages of these goods are.

The idea is to satisfy the customer. It can only be realized by telling the customer "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." The customer has in mind the amount of money that he can spend and the use to which he intends to put the goods which he proposes to buy. The merchant who deals frankly with him not only sells him merchandise once or twice, but wins his confidence and retains him as a permanent customer.

MUSCLE SHOALS AGAIN
The government, including congress, is in a dilemma over Muscle Shoals. In fact, it has been in a state of perplexity on this subject ever since the war left this uncompleted project on its hands. Henry Ford, some three or four years ago, made an offer for Muscle Shoals. It was a straight-forward business proposition, and although there were some of the terms to which sound objection might be taken, it nevertheless represented the best offer the government had from a responsible source. It ran the gamut of politics for several sittings of congress, and shortly before the election Mr. Ford formally withdrew his offer. Now that congress is again in session and there is no apparent outlet for the disposal of Muscle Shoals, efforts are being made to have Mr. Ford renew his proposal.

The government has two alternatives in dealing with Muscle Shoals. One is to complete the power undertaking and operate it itself for the manufacture of fertilizer and other commodities, or to lease or sell it to private parties. Our anti-capitalists would like to see the government run it. But that is merely to satisfy a theory. Every political consideration of good business practice, together with our political system, makes it certain that government operation would be excessively costly and that the benefits to the consumer would be imaginary rather than real.

The government could not begin to manufacture and sell fertilizer at anything like the price of an efficient industrial organization like that possessed by Mr. Ford. President Coolidge recognizes this when he states in his message that the government should put Muscle Shoals in private hands. It is not certain that Mr. Ford can be induced to renew his interest in the enterprise, but if he can be and there is no better offer for the property, the government would probably do well to lease it to him. The farmers should get the benefit of cheap fertilizer the plant is capable of producing, and they should get it as soon as possible.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
SOLITAIRE.
I T isn't much fun when you play life alone 'cause you'll find it a game-like game. The main thing that's missing is fellowship tone, but you've only your own self to blame.
When standing in solitude, thoughtless of friends, a man lays real life on the shelf. No wonder does real living start till it ends for you sort of get tired of yourself.
A heavy old handshake, a smile now and then means a lot as we all understand. But smiling alone isn't known among men and it's flat when you shake your own hand.
The world likes a mixer, good hearted, well met and his welcome by all never ends. We all can be mixers if only we'll get around among folks and make friends.
You can't find the happiness other folks can, for only your own self you care. You've got to mix 'round like a regular man 'stead of playing at dull solitaire.

CONSTIPATION BY ANOTHER NAME.
A business man about to bite on a mail order "special offer" of three several items of hokum, to wit, one glorified rectal syringe, one book of testimonials and pseudo scientific bunk and one superior physical culture course (you know what mail order "courses" are), all for the ridiculously low price of $12, heads the we sma voice of his Scotch extraction and asks whether I would advise him to "try the treatment". In the circular announcing this remarkable "special offer for this month" the prospective purchaser is informed that the habitual use of the glorified syringe is "the one treatment which keeps the blood pure and free from the poison of auto intoxication; something which drugs have never been successful in accomplishing."
The inventor and instigator of the scheme of selling the great American Wiesenheimer, a crude kind of rectal syringe at about 10 times its value, has been exposed as an all around malice order charlatan who has at one time or another exploited gullible victims of defective visions with a fake sight restorer consisting of a bit of tubing with a bulb attached. Although this charlatan has claimed in his fraudulent ads that he is the inventor of the syringe he sells, the patent office records show that another man invented the syringe and as signed the patent to the quack.
There is no limit, apparently, to the lengths a master mail order crook can go without exciting suspicion in the mind of the consumer. This chap assures his credulous victims that apoplexy, consumption, Bright's disease, syphilis and cancers "all have their origin in the colon". Having uttered that falsehood without driving away any trade he summons his nerve and springs the final asinine, which the greater American Wiesenheimer evidently accepts in all seriousness: "there is only one disease, and there is only one cause for disease, and that is auto intoxication."

Constipation by another name, a more impressive name to the mind of the half informed and misinformed Auto Intoxication is a theory, not a condition. So far as any known poisonous or injurious effect upon the system is concerned, constipation is usually a harmless condition. Discomfort it may cause. Disease it does not cause.
There is much more in the morbidological effect of constipation under the misleading name of "auto intoxication" than most people realize. The malaise, headache and other unpleasant symptoms which victims of the auto intoxication obsession experience when the syringe is out of order or the customary evacuation is delayed for any reason, are mainly due to anxiety or worry. If any kind of poisoning of the system were responsible for such symptoms it would be consistent to look for relief several hours after the evacuation of the colon, whereas the relief is usually immediate—as soon as the anxiety and worry are over with. I do not mean to say that intra pelvic pressure in itself is never concerned in the production of such symptoms, but merely to suggest the usual circumstances. Most persons who are subject to constipation seldom or never experience the alleged "auto intoxication symptoms" unless they are introspective, credulous and about 7 in every ten schoolgirls examined in a survey in northern Minnesota, had some degree of goitre.
Didn't Cure Himself.
Please publish the address of the society that distributes the pamphlet on "How I Cured Myself of Tuberculosis in My Own Home" (Miss C. F. K.).
Answer—I know of no such pamphlet of society. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for information and instruction about the management of tuberculosis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Goitre in Minnesota.
Would you include northern Minnesota in the goitre belt or the "great lakes basin" you referred to as a region where goitre is very common? (C. L.)
Answer—Yes. About four in every ten schoolboys and about 7 in every ten schoolgirls examined in a survey in northern Minnesota, had some degree of goitre.

Kindergarten Observes Its 50th Birthday

(From The New York Times.)
Brooklyn's first kindergarten will soon reach its fiftieth birthday. It was the early success of this school for 5-year-olds that determined the incorporation of the kindergarten, some 25 years ago, in the public school systems of New York and Brooklyn. The founder of the school was Charles N. Chadwick. His experience has grown from the beginning half a century ago as a preparatory course to the first grade, to a school with seven grades, widely known as the Froebel academy.
Every mother is a bit sorry to see the baby, who still seems so helpless to her, start out for his first day in school. But when she realizes that the first day and all those that follow in the first year are passed in an atmosphere not so very different from home, it is not such a wrench.
Every department of educational life has been quick to recognize that kindergarten training helps. Departments of physical education gladly in dorse the rhythmic games, the marches and dances which are a part of the every-day life of the kindergarten. Manual training departments declare the value of activities that give dexterity to the hands of such as work with clay, water colors, scissors and paste pot. English teachers praise the story telling and the conversation. Science departments approve of the garden and the nature study. Art departments rejoice in the picture collecting of child life.
The kindergarten movement had its beginning in Germany more than a hundred years ago, with Frederick Froebel. "He is a prophet," said a contemporary, "and has seen as man never saw before into the heart of the child." Himself unhappy in his childhood, neglected in the matter of companionship, misunderstood by a stern stepmother and a busy father, Froebel was well capable of understanding children. He felt that there was a vast chasm between the everyday life of little folks and the abstract routine of school. He believed that if the transition were made more gradually, there would be a vast improvement in mental capacities. His theory was that children learn by doing.
The truth of his ideas has been proved again and again by the comparison of children who have had kindergarten training with those who have not. The kindergarten child gets running start, both mentally and bodily.
Froebel academy, where the kindergarten movement first took root in this part of America, numbers many distinguished New Yorkers among its alumni.

Q The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad has electrified their lines which run through the Rocky Mountains. We have heard it said that the motors which drive the engines up the grade on one side of the divide act as generators while the load is being taken down the other side. As a result of the arrangement the train while descending either side will generate more than enough electricity to make up for what is required to pull the same load up the opposite side. We would like to know the facts in the case F. M. A.
A The electric locomotives used are equipped with what is known as the regeneration feature, that is, they are so arranged that on coasting grade the motors may be run as generators and due to the force of gravity electric power is returned to the trolley line. The amount of energy which is returned to the line during regeneration as compared with the amount of energy required for motoring the same train depends both on the train tonnage and on the steepness of the grade. Assuming a two per cent grade and a train corresponding to the continuous capacity of the locomotive the amount of energy returned to the line, running over a given length of the two per cent grade, is about sixty per cent of that required to haul the same train over the same length of two per cent grade. In hauling a train up on a two per cent grade the locomotive must exert a tractive effort of forty pounds for each ton weight of the train to overcome the grade and must exert an additional six pounds per ton to overcome the train friction, making forty-six pounds per ton total. In going down the grade the gravity pulls at the rate of forty pounds per ton but is opposed by the friction of six pounds per ton so that thirty-four pounds per ton is regenerated over a given distance as compared with forty-six pounds per ton being required to haul the train.

85 BOWLERS WILL ROLL IN STATE PIN TOURNAMENT

Kaukauna—A meeting of bowlers was held Friday evening in K. C. hall to make preliminary plans to send a delegation of leggers to the state bowling tournament in Fond du Lac in January. About 25 men agreed to go and five teams were organized. It is expected others will join within a few days.

The question of establishing a standard for handicaps in the local league also was discussed. It was decided that any bowler who secures an average of 170 pins during a period of four weeks will not be entitled to a handicap while others will be figured from the 170 basis. The handicap of each player will be changed every four weeks as the bowlers improve or slump in their averages.

Following the meeting, the Mueller Bros. dropped three straight games to Bush Flynn Ice Co. Both teams rolled low scores but the ice men always managed to keep ahead in the race. Scores were 824 to 814; 811 to 854 and 822 to 857. The ice men garnered a total of 2,441 pins while the skinner secured 2,427.

Thursday evening games broke the record established the night before by Punters and Bayoregon's teams. The Combined Locks bowlers lost two games to Andrews Oil Co. The locks scored the first 554 to 584 but lost the next two 581 to 545 and 553 to 517. Totals were 2,708 to 2,545 in favor of the oil company.

Amay Bayoregon, who went into the lead as high man in individual game and three game average on Wednesday night, was noted out by Egan, member of the oil company team. Egan hit 224, one more than Bayoregon's record. That score, with others of 170 and 222 gave him an average of 616.

SHOWS STUDENTS EDUCATION PAYS

McMahon's High School Talk Compares Earnings of Educated and Untrained

New London—Students of New London high school were shown through statistics the value of a high school education in a talk by R. J. McMahon, principal. He compared earnings of those with only a grammar school education and those with high school training and indicated that the value of the latter schooling is $9 to $26 a day more. He urged the students to consider these facts before leaving high school to start working. The chief reason for dropping out usually is that it "doesn't pay," he said.

Supt. McMahon also brought up the subject of the alumni directory of this year's annual, the Classmate, and the alumni section of the new school newspaper Monday Morning News. He asked the students to hunt information on this subject. The chief things described are: When was the high school first established in New London? What was the date of the first graduating class? Who graduated? Who was principal at that time?

In answering these questions, Supt. McMahon stated that there is considerable doubt as to just when the high school originated, and where some claiming one date, and others another. However, the chief one seemed to be the year of 1892, with the date of the first graduating class of six members on June 24, 1896. Two men are equally claimed as being principal at that time, one a Mr. Clerry, and the other a Mr. Blondell.

The students have been asked to help untangle the history.

An announcement was also made of the first summer school session of Ripon college, which will be held next summer for a period of time equal to one quarter, or ten weeks, since school is also to be held on Saturday.

SWINDLE SCHEME

Stranger Gets Check Cashed
and Then Puts Check Back in His Pocket

Special to Post-Crescent
Neenah.—Police officers of Neenah and Menasha are looking for a stranger who worked a new scheme on merchants in the two cities Friday night.

The stranger armed with a check issued by the Island Paper Co. entered a business place and asked that the check of $30 be cashed. The clerk, in counting out the money forgot to pick the check up. Upon leaving, after he had received his money, the stranger picked up the check and departed. The clerk was not discovered until it was after he had disappeared. It is thought that the same thing was worked on several merchants before he left town. He could not be located during the night. Just where he secured his check is unknown as no one noticed the writing upon it other than the paper company's signature.

PYTHIAN BAZAAR GIVES
LARGE SUM FOR CHARITY

Neenah.—A large sum of money to be used for charity was realized by Knights of Pythias at a bazaar in their hall Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Attendance at the three night sessions has been large thus realizing a sum sufficient to entertain the needy children of Neenah at Christmas time. A passenger automobile was awarded to W. C. Edwards, Waukegan, at the close of the affair.

ISAAC WALTON LEAGUE
SHOWING RAPID GAIN

Neenah.—Membership in the Neenah branch of Isaac Walton club has reached the half hundred mark. Much interest has been manifested in the organization of this club in the Twin Cities. It is hoped that one hundred new members can be secured by the next meeting which will be called by president Robert Jamison.

Your Estate—
How Long Will It Last?

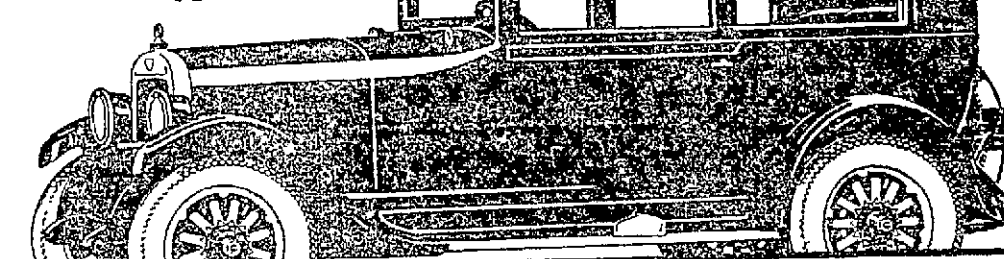

IF YOU leave your estate outright, in the form of a large sum of money or piece of property, there is always the possibility that it may be unwisely invested or mismanaged.

A way to protect your family's inheritance is to leave it in trust for them. In your will or by a trust agreement, you can set aside your entire estate or parts of it, to provide an income for one or all members of your family. By naming this company as trustee of such a fund, you assure that the principal will be carefully invested and managed.

The income will be paid regularly to your beneficiaries according to your instructions. In addition, you can arrange for special payments to care for any unforeseen occurrences.

Such a plan enables you to protect and conserve your estate, so that your family will receive the maximum benefit from their inheritance. It eliminates the possibility of loss through inexperience or mismanagement.

In every phase of performance and ownership the new good Maxwell is superior in value to anything in its field and at anywhere near its price.

PIECEMEAL RAIL OPERATION THING OF PAST IN U. S.

Contemplated Mergers Making Rail Securities Popular, Says Babson

Babson Park, Mass.—Contemplated mergers have played a large part in the popularity of railroad securities in both stock and bond markets. In discussing this current development in the railroad industry, Roger W. Babson, statistician, offers some interesting suggestions.

"The air is full of prospective railroad mergers," says Mr. Babson. "The old, inefficient and disastrous method of operating piecemeal short lines is over. The interstate commerce commission is on record that the railroads of the country shall be grouped in certain combinations to the end that our commerce be handled in a sane and efficient manner."

"One of the first mergers that has come to the public eye and which is still in process is that of the Nickel Plate. Another one which is in process and, by the way, promises to be one of the largest, is the Missouri Pacific combination. This latter plan is one of the most ambitious schemes ever submitted. It serves to illustrate the method followed and the advantages gained by this whole merger program."

MERGE IN SOUTH

"The present Missouri Pacific is to be the nucleus in system No. 19 proposed by the interstate commerce commission. When complete, the consolidated system, as planned, will probably extend from Chicago to St. Louis and Kansas City. From these points the system will continue to the Pacific coast, although the western extension from Salt Lake City will be over the lines of the Western Pacific, which though not controlled by Missouri Pacific, has a community of interest with the latter, each owning one-half of the common stock of the Denver & Rio Grande, a recently reorganized road. From St. Louis and Kansas City the consolidated system will also extend southward to the Gulf of Mexico."

"The total mileage of the combination is expected to be around 17,000 miles, greater than any existing system. Whether all the contemplated acquisitions of the merger will finally go through remains to be seen. Already application has been made for control of New Orleans, Texas, & Mexico and its subsidiary, International-Great Northern. As it already controls Texas & Pacific, it is a foregone conclusion that the Missouri Pacific will have a strong hold on the great empire state of Texas."

"Those who have not investigated, little realize how this great state, and for that matter, the whole southwest is developing. The next ten years will undoubtedly show a wonderful expansion and this the Missouri Pacific, in the person of its far-sighted officers, realizes full well. Among the states covered by the consolidated roads as outlined by system 19 are Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Texas."

INCLUDE OTHERS

"Other roads included in system 19 are Louisiana & Arkansas, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, and Kansas City Southern. The first, namely, Louisiana & Arkansas, is a relatively short line extending from Hope, Arkansas to Alexandria and Jonesville, Louisiana with a short branch line touching Shreveport. This does not appear to be a necessary acquisition, as the Missouri Pacific already has fairly direct connections with these cities through its present controlled lines.

"While the Chicago & Eastern Illinois is included in consolidation plan 19 by the interstate commerce commission as a road which would give the Missouri Pacific an entrance to Chicago, this is not necessarily, the only system which might be considered for this same purpose. The Chicago & Alton, at present in receivership, might serve the same purpose. This road affords practically a straight line route from St. Louis to Chicago and also connects with Kansas City, reaching the Kansas City Southern there."

"From the discussion of the contemplated plans of the Missouri Pacific it can be seen that the system is to play an important part in future transportation activities. As above stated, it is going ahead with its plans to push through to the Gulf by means of the now prosperous New Orleans, Texas and Mexico and the International Great Northern. Its further ramifications have not yet been announced. Already, however, it is gratifying to see the Missouri Pacific general of 4 per cent bonds take on new strength. Its preferred stock has also made heavy advances as its holders see an opportunity to get its 20 per cent or more accrued dividends paid, and even the common stock holders can see some light ahead."

"Students of the transportation situation are now awaking to the possibilities to be obtained from logical consolidations and mergers, of which the Missouri Pacific and Nickel Plate are foremost forerunners of others to be forthcoming in the next few years.

"Such mergers are in accordance with the plans of the interstate commerce may receive the sanction of that body and be put into effect soon. It is probable that others will have to wait for some time. Investors buying sound rail issues will benefit in the long run but the speculator who tries to make a good profit by buying some weak road that is helped by a proposed merger may find himself waiting for a long time.

"Once the mergers are in effect," concluded Mr. Babson, "the railroads will gain in lower operating costs and by other economies. The investor will be in a stronger position and general business—now reflected on the Babson chart as 2 per cent above normal—will enjoy the invigorating effect of lower transportation costs."

Money Becomes Business Riddle As Trade Revives

BY JOHN T. FLYNN

New York—As the air clears in the first pause following the post election burst of optimism, it is the money situation which emerges as the one to be watched most intently. It must not be supposed that there is any danger of dislocation or shortage here. Far from it. The thing that calls for constant scrutiny is the continued excess of money. It is but a few weeks ago that Wall Street was predicting that the New York Federal Reserve Bank would boost the rediscount rate. Nevertheless the board did not act and while rumblings of higher money have been heard daily ever since, nothing in the situation has occurred to change the fundamental basis of money rates.

Notwithstanding the enormous volume of security trading and the immense foreign loans, the supplies of money continue high. And deposits so far as the latest reports of the Federal Reserve Banks show, continue to outstrip loans. After operations for the month are all totaled up, it is seen that corporate financing is low in the hands of wholesalers and retailers and each little cold spell brings bigger orders.

WHOLESALE TRADE

There has been a gain in wholesale trade in the report for October. There are the latest available. Since January, however, the volume of wholesale business has been less than that in the corresponding period last year. But since July the business of this year has been slowly approaching the line of last year's operations, until in September we were doing as well as in 1923. The rate of gain in October was not as great as in October last year. There was a temporary check due to the approaching elections, the corresponding period last year. 500 TAX CERTIFICATES TO BE OFFERED FOR SALE

More land will be sold at the tax deed sale next spring than has ever been sold here before unless there is an increase in the number of tax certificates redeemed before that day. In the notice of saleable tax deeds just published by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, more property descriptions are listed than have ever been advertised for any previous sale. There are about 500 different pieces of property the taxes on which range from $1.01 to $688.88. Those who purchased the tax certificates on these properties three years ago will be entitled to bid on the tax deed at the sale which will be held on June 9, 1925, unless the back taxes together with interest and expense of advertising are paid by the present owner before that date.

Love for Home—you see it everywhere

The birds of the air and the beasts of the field are home builders.

The thinking man does as much for his family.

And it's sensible, too.
If you live in rent, you pay for a home at least twice in a life time.

While all you can show for it is a worthless bundle of rent receipts.

Our institution is founded to help people get homes.

We can help you. We can help every man.

And it's a lot easier than most people think. Just come in and talk it over.

STAGE — AND — SCREEN

BOSTON FASHIONS NEW FILM STYLE

Barbara La Marr brings some new and distinctly individual costumes to the screen in her forthcoming picture "Sandra," which will be shown at the Elite theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Jesta their designer is no date to Boston's Back Bay fashion club and her instructions were to lend her creations for the film-star the "Back Bay" touch of ultra refinement in fashion.

Descriptions of some of the gowns follow.

Neiglee. This consists of a pale gray sheath with fifteen yards of pale lavender draped cleverly over the figure. The draping is in the Callou fashion and the entire effect is set off by a huge pearl ornament dangling against the gray and lavender.

Ball Costume. This consists of a silver cloth with a train fifteen feet in length. Imported silver lace set in brilliant is draped over the cloth to bring about an entrancing Parisian sheath effect.

Gold gown. This gown consists of a bodice of solid lace with birds of Paradise woven cunningly in on the side. A gold mount of gold was used in the design of this costume and the entire effect is set off by a bird of Paradise woven in the hair.

FILM STAR PLAYS TOUGH FIRST TIME

For the first time in her life Alice Calhoun the star in "The Matrimonial Web," which will be shown at The New Bijou theatre on Monday, plays the role of a girl in the underworld. Miss Calhoun has never had any experience of this character and it was with great interest that Director Jove watched her work. He had seen the young girl do almost impossible things. He had seen her rise to great heights and carry away laurels where players long seasoned in the business had failed. To him this girl in her teens is a marvel and it was with interest that he let her work out her character.

The picture will be "Un-

for the scenes depicting the life in the underworld. She carried away honours and surprised all who beheld her.

In the story Miss Calhoun has the role of the daughter of a revenue officer who has charge of running down a band of smugglers. The father falls in his task but his daughter in order to save the position for the man attempts to round up the band in order to get the clue she mixes with the frequenters of an underworld dive and poses as a member of a band of tools and succeeds in hoodwinking the frequenters of the resort. She runs into an adventure which leads her to the headquarters of the smuggling band and also wins for her a husband. The action is intensely dramatic and Miss Calhoun handles every scene in a manner that does her credit and puts a realism into the production which most actresses find impossible to attain.

BRAND NEW VAUDEVILLE

For Sunday a magnificent program is offered at the Appleton theatre, headed by the Filipino Sextette, a company of real Filipinoes playing and singing musical gems. They are considered the best tropical entertainers now appearing in this country and open shortly for Balaban and Katz at the famous Chicago Theatre. Clinton and Vivian furnish the comedy on the program and this is bound to please as Mr. Vivian is Larry Sea-mon's double and performs on the stage in the same makeup and manner that Larry does on the screen. Joe Deming in another comedy act is a very capable comedian and entertains with some new and original material while the Fernandos have a pleasing musical novelty with good refined laughs.

PUT MORE TIME ON YOUR CAR IF YOU
DRIVE IN WINTER

Battery and Brakes Should Be Watched as Temperature
Flirts with Zero

The great winter dread of motorists is a frozen engine system. Important to this is, there are other dangers about winter driving that are almost as necessary to keep the car in good shape.

Greater care of moving parts, then, the oil system and the battery must be taken during cold weather. Winter puts an additional strain on the auto, which must be compensated by extra care and safety driving.

As essential as the water cooling system is in winter driving, only a couple of simple operations takes care of it and prevents its causing trouble. These include use of an anti-freeze mixture and keeping the radiator and hood covered when the car isn't in use.

ALCOHOL BEST

The best anti-freeze liquid is de-hydrated alcohol. Used in proper proportion with the water in the system, according to the coldness expected, there should be no worry of the system's freezing.

ANTI-FREEZE MIXTURE

Proper proportions of alcohol and water to make a good anti-freeze mixture, depends on the extremity of the weather. For this reason it is up to the individual driver to determine how much alcohol to put into his cooling system.

The following table, however, will help decide on the best proportion:

Down to	Parts	Parts
Temp. Fahr.	Alcohol	Water
30	1	99
25	1 1/2	98 1/2
20	2	98
15	2 1/2	97 1/2
10	3	97
5	3 1/2	96 1/2
0	4	96
-5	4 1/2	95 1/2
-10	5	95

Outside of this, all that is necessary is to use the radiator and hood cover while the car is parked.

Besides the cooling system, however, these features should be watched:

OIL—Lighter lubricating oil is usually used in cold weather, because a heavier oil is liable to stiffen and make starting difficult. It also produces a greater drain on the battery.

BATTERY—Keep the battery well charged and filled. Winter requires an extra drain on the battery, due to greater difficulty in starting and more use of lights.

TIRES—Chips of ice cut the castings, water from melting snow gets into the cracks and the fabric deteriorates fast. To prevent this means keeping cuts and bruises filled and the tires well inflated. Tire chains are essential in icy weather, to prevent skidding.

WATCH BATTERY

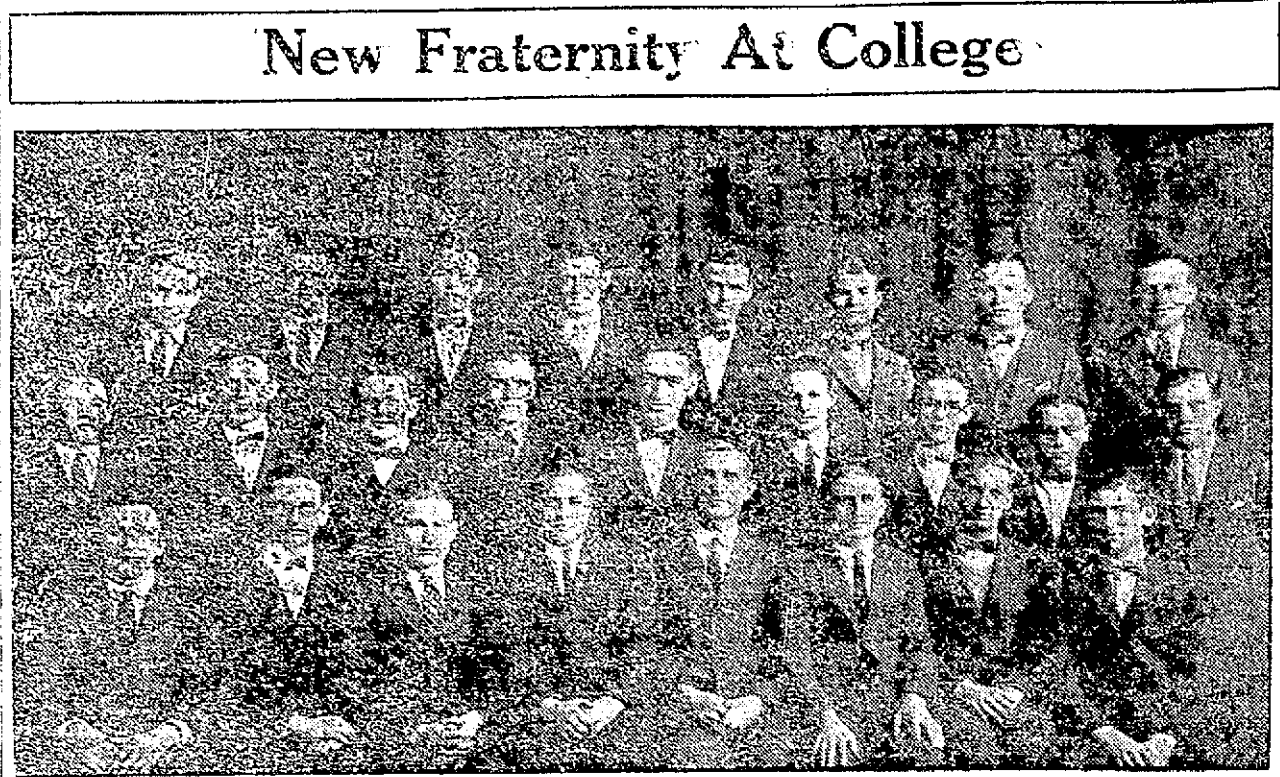

BRAKES—These need special attention during slippery weather. The morning frost is enough to cause serious accidents, if the brakes do not work properly. They should be checked up more often.

STEERING GEAR—Have it tightened up. Sharp turns are dangerous in winter and better control of the wheels is necessary. Perfect steering gear is essential especially in counter acting skidding.

CORRECTION—This needs adjustment for a heavier mixture to make a better mixture.

To help in starting, also, the engine should be flooded with a rich gas mixture, before it is stopped. Prime and run the engine for a second or two before turning off the ignition. There will be less drain on the battery when the car is started again.

Racing will not warm up a cold engine. Retard the spark and let the engine run slowly.

STATE INCOME TAX ADVANCES $728,000

Madison—The state income tax bill of Wisconsin corporations for 1924, collectable in 1925, shows an increase of $728,000 over last year, according to the corporation income tax assessment announced Wednesday by the state tax commission. Total taxes assessed for the present year are $10,304,631, the commission announces.

The assessment compares with that of last year which amounted to $9,576,757.

The income of Wisconsin corporations also announced the placing of $445,249 in back income taxes on the rolls to be collected next year.

The income of Wisconsin corporations during 1923, in which the 1924 tax is based, amounted to $143,351,018, the commission assessment shows. This is an increase of approximately thirteen million dollars over 1922 when the income taxation purposes was $129,920,003.

STUDENTS SEEK PERMIT TO HOLD JUNIOR PROM

According to George B. Christensen of Oshkosh, president of the junior class, every effort will be made to secure permission for a junior promenade at Lawrence college this year. Lawrence J. Lyons of Appleton has been appointed chairman of the social committee and will aid in this movement.

There has been agitation for a junior prom for the last few years but permission never was secured. College rules allow each class to give two dances a year, but this has been interpreted by the authorities to mean strictly class dances. A junior prom would be a larger affair with alumni and guests present.

EVERY SCHOOL TEACHES ITS OWN KIND OF FRENCH

Every year in the college French class a number of different schools are represented. Students from different schools used different text books and learned different vocabularies. Who knows the correct French?

This is the problem that must be solved by Prof. Louis C. Baker of the modern language department of Lawrence. At a recent meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Modern Foreign Language teachers, Prof. Baker was elected a member of the executive committee of four and establishment of standardized vocabularies in all secondary schools will be the first task of the committee. Prof. Baker intends to institute the use of standardized vocabularies in secondary schools.

POTATO CROP FAR ABOVE LAST YEAR

Outagamie-co Production is Fourth Largest in East Wisconsin District

Outagamie-co is fourth among the nine counties which comprise the east district of Wisconsin in the number of bushels of potatoes raised per acre, according to November issue of the Wisconsin Crop and Livestock Reporter. The average production per acre in the county is 132 bushels. The average for the state is 123 bushels and for the district 127.9 bushels. Keweenaw-co leads the district with 142 bushels, while Brown with 135 and Calumet with 135 are second and third.

Last year Outagamie-co ranked sixth among the nine with 101 or 31 less than this year. In the production of hay the county ranks fourth with 1.9 tons per acre. The state average is 1.51 and the district average is 1.95 tons. The county is below the state average both in the production of barley and oats.

Milk prices were much higher this year than last in all Wisconsin counties. Outagamie-co average this year is $1.65 per 100 pounds, or one cent below the district and state average of $1.66. The county is second in the district on the total carlot shipment of potatoes with 127 cars. Door-co leads with 130. Dale and Hortonville are the two leading potato shipping points of this county, it was reported.

Counties comprising the East district of Wisconsin are Brown, Calumet, Door, Fond du Lac, Keweenaw, Manitowoc, Outagamie, Sheboygan and Winnebago. Because of the heavy rains Wisconsin cabbage crop is 20 per cent below last year. Outagamie-co produced eight tons per acre, one of the highest in the state.

FEATHER COLLECTION IS ADDED TO MUSEUM

A basket of flowers made from the feathers of Brazilian birds is the latest addition of the museum of Lawrence college. The flowers are the gift of Harry Colvin of Appleton. The feathers were collected from native birds by the nuns of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and were carefully stitched into the likeness of flowers with butterflies lighting on the top. The collection is unique and the public is invited to view it Friday afternoon in the museum.

Modern Flappers Are Sturdy Oaks And Not Weak Clinging Vines

BY CYNTHIA GREY

"A young bird first trying its wings." That's the pathetic definition of a flapper that the Century dictionary gives us. And it sounds like anything but a description of the assured young girl we stangly call the flapper. A great many people have condemned the flapper and it's hard to see just why they have. Her virtues are so many and her faults so few. For one thing, she's such a good pal. A girl who doesn't swim and dance and play tennis and hike these days is an exception, and a very unpopular exception, too. The flapper is much more of a comrade than a "best girl" to her boy friend, and that's a fine, wholesome attitude, isn't it? And then there's the modern girl's honesty. She takes her jam openly from the cupboard of life where she used to sneak it. The flapper knows what she wants and how to get it. She's not the clinging vine any longer, but the sturdy oak. She has danced in where Mrs. Victoria feared to tread. She is opening tea shops and millinery shops. She is going to college and studying law. Mid-Victoria longed to do these things, too, but she was afraid that if she did nobody would marry her. So she sat at home and waited for someone to come along and propose marriage to her—the only career then open to women.

There's a novel by Amanda M. Douglas that was published in this free country in the year 1889. The heroine of it is forced to earn her own living, poor thing, and this is what she says about it:

"It is vulgar and commonplace, and yet I don't see why it should be considered so derogatory."

That was the attitude of women toward working outside the home only 35 years ago. But now our books say: "We women want something we can call our own, just as men do. More."

And that's precisely the attitude of the flapper, and the reason for her being what she is—greedy, but up and coming. She sees that her brother has a lot of money, of his own and money of his own and that they go him no harm. So she acquires both herself—and assurance along with them.

However, she surely needs that assurance and the right to think clearly for herself in this after-the-war world of jazz and confusion.

It was much easier and simpler to be a lady a few years ago when songwriters sang "O you, beautiful lady, I raise my eyes," than now when we dance to the music of "Red Hot Mama." For chivalry has vanished along with high silk hats and formal duty calls.

The flapper is only the by-product of her day and age. And this is a time of new standards. All the old gude posts are gone.

We have freedom, but too much of it, perhaps. Prohibition is here, but so is the midnight supper club. Sunday has become a gala day. Why should we think it unreasonable for the young woman of today to be free and easy, too?

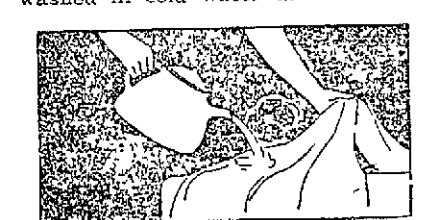

And before you condemn her for not wearing corsets you want to remember that the splendid woman of the Greek Golden Age didn't wear them either, and that the wanton women of the French court did.

And if you disapprove (as you should) of her rouged cheek bones and her painted lips, you ought to give her the benefit of a doubt. Perhaps she's much better than she's painted.

Household Suggestions

COCOA STAINS
Cocoa stains in linen should be washed in cold water and then boiled.

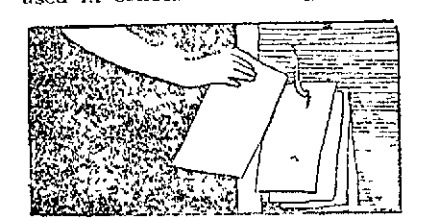

ing water should be poured through until all traces of the stain are effaced.

RUB WITH MILK
If you feel your brown shoes are too tight, darken them by rubbing them with milk and ammonia. Then polish with a dry cloth.

LIGHTENS SWEEPING LABOR
A long-handled dustpan is a household necessity and does much to lighten the labor of sweeping.

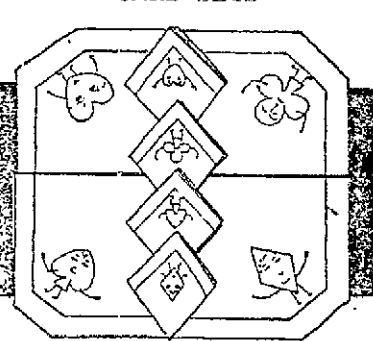

KEEP CLIPS HANDY
A spike or large clip such as are used in offices for holding a number of papers may be advantageously kept in the kitchen to keep paper bags which often come in very handy.

Christmas Presents

CARD SETS

The latest for the bridged luncheon are "deck folks" outlined on white linen in black and red, with blue eyes. They are fun to make and are dandy gifts. The napkins should carry the same design as used for the table covering.

Animals Are Generous To Give Up Fur

When winter comes and we wrap ourselves into coats and scarfs of pleasing warm fur, do we ever give a thought to the animals which once roamed at will in the wilds and had to give their lives for our comfort?

"What is this fur and that? What kind of animal is it that supplies our warmth this winter?"

In the world of fur there is, like in any other line, a real and imitation which goes by the same name.

When buying fur one should know what kind one wishes and should be able to tell the real from the imitation.

Any fur should be full in the "under coat" or the inner pelt. As a rule the darker furs are more valuable than the lighter. If the outside "coat" is very thin and the under "coat" is soft and thin, one may be sure that it is made from the stomach of the animal, but is in the back that is best in quality and highest in price.

Here is a list of few of the best known furs in the market—

SABLE.
This is a small, sinuous animal, which bears the finest of all fur. The sable which comes from Russia is classed highest. In Europe they speak of black sable, blue sable and brown, the brown being the cheapest. Next in value comes the skin from Kamchatka, while the sable from Canada, longhaired and light is of small value. A coat of well matched, dark sable costs several hundred thousand rubles in Europe before the war. It was only the highest royalty which could afford to dress in sable.

ERMINE.
Ermine is a royal fur. The most perfect specimens come from Russia, Sweden and the northern part of Inner China. Many of us have seen the little animal we call tinsel. That is the ermine. Only we call it tinsel in the summer when the coat is gray or beige. In winter the little animals turn white, all but the tip of the tail which has a little dark tassel. The skin is short and smooth like velvet. Many imitations are made from rabbit, hare and other white animals. The fur is shaved short, but the texture of the pelt is easily distinguished from the fine ermine.

MINK.
The mink is an amphibious animal, dark reddish brown in color, and the fur is famous for its wearing qualities. The best skins come from the animals from Hudson Bay; then in rank comes the Canadian, and last the Russian.

SKUNK.
The best skunk skins come from Canada. It is an inferior grade which comes from the higher altitudes of the Himalayas, but they are almost extinct now. Efforts have been made to revive the interest in this fur, which often is dyed brown to hide the white strips on each side of the animal. The fur is not used for whole garments, but is used for trimmings.

KOLINSKY.
Kolinsky is the furrier's name for a variety of marten which comes from Russia. In its natural state it has an unpleasant brown shade, and is therefore often dyed a nice brown shade. Often the better skins are sold as sable. It is a wearing and extremely becoming fur and is very popular just now, but unfortunately by much exposure in the light it easily loses its color.

FATHER OF MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT VERY ILL (Excerpt from "The Morning Argosy")

The invitations to a large party to have been given by Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Prescott this evening have been recalled, and Mrs. Prescott has left hurriedly for the home of her father, whose illness is serious.

Mrs. Prescott's parents, accompanied by their youngest daughter,

Christmas Candy

MAPLE NUT CARAMELS

Two and one-half cups brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 cup butter, 1/2 cup red label corn syrup, 1 cup milk, 1/2 cup cream, 1 up broken nut meats, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt one cup of sugar over a low fire. Stir in cream of tartar and stir continually while melting. Stir in remaining sugar, butter, corn syrup and milk. Cook, stirring almost constantly until the syrup forms a hard ball when tried in cold water. The drop of syrup in the water must be hard and firm between the fingers. Add cream and cook until the syrup cracks when tried in cold water. Stir constantly after adding cream and keep the fire low. Remove from the fire, stir in nuts and pour into a well-buttered dripping pan. Let stand several hours in a cold place. Cut into squares and wrap in oiled paper.

and her fiancé, Mr. Karl Whitney, returned from Europe a few days ago, and they were joined in New York by Mrs. Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton and their daughter. Have been some months in England with Miss Hamilton's fiancé.

Mr. Hamilton was not well during the latter part of his stay abroad, and during his stay in New York his illness became more apparent. Since arriving at his home he has grown steadily worse.

Yesterday the invitations for Miss Hamilton's wedding to Mr. Karl Whitney were stopped just as they were being delivered at the post office, and the invitations to Mrs. Prescott's party were recalled.

..... Marriage of Paula Perier's Publicity Man

(On the Dramatic Page of "The Argosy")

This evening at the Iroquois Hotel the marriage of Miss Beatrice Grimshaw and Mr. Richard Summers will be solemnized. The bride has many friends in the city. She had come over to be present at the party to have been given by Mr. and Mrs. Prescott, which has been called off because of the serious illness of Mrs. Prescott's father.

Miss Grimshaw was Mrs. Prescott's maid of honor three years ago and her marriage to Mr. Summers had been planned as a surprise for Mrs. Prescott's guests at her third anniversary.

Mrs. Prescott's hurried departure for the home of her father made necessary a change of plans, and Mrs. Grimshaw will be married at the Iroquois Hotel tonight with Mr. Sydney Carlton as best man and Mrs. Sally Atterton as matron of honor.

Mr. Summers is one of the staff of the Pinnacle Moving Picture Production Co., and as such he has piloted the beautiful star, Paula Perier, to fame. It is expected that Miss Perier will come up from New York, where she is staying at present to attend the wedding.

Two-Piece Outfit

Winter will have no terrors for the girl equipped with so smart a two-piece outfit as this. Though the coat and dress are of the same material and are made to be worn together they may be divorced very easily. The coat would do for any other dress and the dress is very snappy without the wrap. Shutter green suede cloth is the material of the dress and coat, trimmed with gray squirrel and buttons of dark green bone. The wide suede belt is a novel feature.

An order on us for a pair of smart shell rim glasses is a worth-while gift.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE RIDDLE LADY ARRIVES

"Hello, Nancy and Nick," called Jack and Jill when Daddy Gander's magic dust-pan had settled down obligingly before the front porch of the flouze that Jack built.

"Hello!" cried the Twins, jumping off the dustpan and hurrying up the steps where kind Mrs. John, Jack's mother, waited in the doorway.

Daddy Gander tucked his magic dust-pan under his arm (for it had shrunk again into a proper-sized dust-pan) and called out, "I'm going home to get tidied up for the party. What time is it to be, Mrs. John? Mrs. Goose and I don't want to be late."

"The Riddle Lady isn't here yet," answered Mrs. John, "and when she comes I suppose she'll have to rest awhile. I think two o'clock will be about right. It's to be a garden-party, or rather an orchard-party. I can't get all the people into our little house. Everybody will be here."

"They surely will, when there are ladies to guess," laughed Daddy Gander. "Good-bye."

No sooner had Daddy gone than the Riddle Lady arrived in her coach and four.

After her came a footman carrying a large box. "It's the prizes," she explained to Mrs. John. "What is a Riddle without a prize, I'd like to know."

"Do come in and take off your things," urged Mrs. John. "The biscuits and tea are getting cold. And I would like to get through, and the dishes 'cleared up' before the company starts to come."

"Of course! Of course!" said the Riddle Lady hastily. "Here I am keeping everybody waiting."

"Well, as for that," said Mrs. John setting the chairs around, "I suppose everybody will be keeping you waiting after while."

Well, everything went along very nicely, and after while lunch was over and the dishes cleared up and the guests began to arrive.

When everybody was there—even Sleepy Head and Slow and Simple Simon, the Riddle Lady gave out her first riddle.

This was it:

"Sometimes I'm made of feathers, Sometimes I'm made of silk, Sometimes I'm black as furnace coal, And sometimes white as milk."

"Sometimes I'm made of paper That brings the daily news."

Sometimes of parchment painted over, With birds and flowers and views.

"Sometimes I'm carried proudly To theaters and balls, But sometimes just to decorate The mantelpiece and walls."

"But mostly Chinese use me, Or maids in far Japan, There is no doubt you know my

That was the Riddle and Nancy guessed it right off.

"It's a fan, isn't it?" she said quickly.

It was, and she got the prize. The Riddle Lady gave out her next riddle. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

ABUNDANT in big points of profit—the A-B-C classified section.

There's Only One A-B-C Classified Section

There are many classified advertising mediums—but there is only one A-B-C Classified Section.

There are many collections of old fashioned "Want Ads" thrown together the hit-or-miss way as they are received—but there's only one classified section where all the offers are systematically arranged in both A-B-C and 1-2-3 order for instant finding.

The Post-Crescent is the only newspaper in this territory which arranges its classified ads in this copyright form—and this is done wholly and solely for greater convenience to readers.

To see whether or not this aim is achieved you have only to go from the A-B-C Classified Section to an ordinary classified medium and try to find some obscure item.

Then you will understand more clearly why the Post-Crescent has gained undisputed classified leadership in its field!

OPEN DEER SEASON IN WINTER TO KEEP CARS OUT OF WOODS

Game Warden Declares Automobiles Add to Enforcement Difficulties

Delay the opening of the deer season until the first week in December and the menace of the automobile insofar as lawlessness is concerned, will be greatly reduced. In the opinion of Bert Claffin, state game warden inspector, whose headquarters are in Appleton.

The inspector has just returned from the heart of the deer country near Eagle river, where he and Warden Henry Oberholzer of Forest county report they seized twenty-one deer and apprehended twelve law violators and were instrumental in preventing a murder tragedy.

"Those 'gasoline deer hunters' keep us guessing," said Warden Claffin. "They take the side roads, dodge around here and there, get out of our sight, and then on to the main highway with their illegal kill. During the three days at Eagle River 1,500 hunters with automobiles were counted, and it will never be known how many bucks and doe were unlawfully killed in the woods.

"Of course to increase the number of game wardens may help in getting the auto deer thief, but the only way to get rid of that menace is to delay the deer hunting season until sometime in December, when there is so much snow in the north woods that an automobile cannot be used."

Inspector Claffin said that much trickery was used in the many attempts to evade the law. He related how he stopped one automobile and found bloodstains on the running board. At first his investigation was futile, but after a second search his attention was called to a long bundle tied close to the top of the machine and directly above the rear seat. He found the bundle to contain a full grown doe.

A party of six Keweenaw men were arrested for having several doe in their possession and for eating venison in camp. Another man was arrested after a box was seized aboard a pullman in which the carcasses of a deer was found.

LAWRENCE AND CARROLL DEBATE AT SHEBOYGAN

Lawrence college debate team will meet a team from Carroll college next January at Sheboygan to debate the resolution that congress should have power to reverse Supreme court decisions relative to legislation. The same week another Carroll debate team will uphold the other side of the question when it meets the Beloit team at Tomah. On Jan. 28 Carroll will debate the subject with Beloit at Richland Center, with the former upholding the affirmative, while on the same day another Carroll team will debate the Ripon college team at Berlin.

Santa Claus Pushed Hard To Keep His Toys Abreast Of Demands Of Children

"Toyland, toyland, mystic, merry toyland, once you dwell within it you can never return again," is the refrain in the hearts of older people as the wander among the counters in downtown stores, laden with toys that seem to grow more marvelous as the years go by. It isn't uncommon to find more adults than children in the toy departments, fidgeting and playing with the toys, gasping over the antics of the bucking broncho rider and lovingly fingering the doll with pretty yellow curls.

The children are found outside the stores, noses pressed flat against the plate glass windows as they wait for the airplane that can actually fly, the train that runs on tracks, the doll that says "ma-ma" and the bears that growl upon request. Santa Claus must be a busy fellow these days and he must grow cleverer as the years roll along, for nowadays a boy doesn't only want a football, but demands a toy motion picture projecting machine or a miniature engine while the young miss, although a doll is still her favorite, is inclined to play records or a set of dishes that is made of as fine and as delicate china as those mother keeps for best.

MORE TOYS THAN EVER
This year there seems to be a wider and more varied range of toys than ever before, and about one half of them are made in America, according to the local dealers while the other half comes from Germany, other European countries and Japan. All dealers agree that the price is slightly lower than last year. In most instances, and in others average about the same as last year.

Mothers needn't worry about dressing last year's doll for the stores carry ready-to-wear for mother. One can get everything from capes and gowns down to dainty "undies" and shoes and stockings. The price is quite reasonable too, ranging from 25 cents for a dress to $1.50 for a more elaborate costume.

Boys will be delighted with the engines that will run for a long period with the building toys, the mechanical toys and games of all sorts. The mechanical toys include clowns that jig on boxes, cowboys who "ride em," birds that sing in cages, merry-go-rounds, swings and automobiles.

TOY CIRCUSES
On one counter a toy circus parades early, while across the way a fire truck that is in every detail like the modern truck, is prepared to run at the slightest winding. Guns, wheelbarrows, lawnmowers, small accordians, acrobats, horse and wagons, teddy bear that sleeps and one that cranks are among the wonderful toys on display.

The little girl can fully equip her playhouse with furniture, trons and ironing boards, dishes, a phonograph, sets of kitchen utensils from the counters of the toy department.

DOLLS APPEAL
And one mustn't forget dolls. Dolls are the most important part of Christmas for little girls and this year finds a greater assortment than ever before. There is the gorgeous French doll in her wonderful dress and hat, the cunning baby doll that cries, the doll with golden curls and blue eyes, another one with her hair fashionably bobbed, and still others from across the waters attired in the aces of the countries from which they came.

JAPS IMITATE GERMANS
Japan is closely imitating the toys made in Germany and it isn't easy to tell at first glance from which country a toy comes, said H. L. Post of the Pettibone Peabody company. He said that the price of toys this year was lower than last year, and that the variety was larger.

W. W. Frank, of the Fair Dry Goods company, said that it was natural that European-made toys were lower in price than American-made goods, since they must be placed lower to compete with American manufacturers. He declared that about half the stock of toys were made in America, while the other half is of foreign manufacture.

American inventors are becoming cleverer in the manufacture of toys, was the opinion of J. R. Whitman, manager of the J. C. Penney company, and it is usual to find many of the toys formerly made in Germany made by American companies. Mr. Whitman said that this was particularly noticeable since the war, when Americans were forced to make their own toys when importations from Germany were cut off.

There is little change in the toy market this year, according to Harry Corvin of the Geenen Dry Goods company, although the price is slightly lower.

F. A. Rogers of Gloucemans Gage company declared that he found the foreign and American made toys occupied about equal space on the shelves, although the foreign were slightly lower priced. Many of the foreign made toys, Mr. Rogers said, are made by hand. Many of the small
